To Elizabeth (Pease) Nichol

«Lynn, Mass.» A reply to a request for information about the attitude of the Society of Friends toward the Anti-Slavery cause. Says that the Society itself has done nothing for the Abolitionists. The subject of Abolitionism has been only occasionally referred to in meetings. "... we have been satisfied with the Society having prohibited its own members from holding slaves ..." Refers to the prejudice against Friends associating with other reform organizations. The Friends are not in favor of immediate emancipation. Tells of his own position in the Society. Met with opposition from Prominent Friends. The Society favored help for the Indians. Wrote an Anti-Slavery essay which w[illegible]trongly criticised. Tells of the attempt of the Societ[illegible]bring informal charges against him. "... Prejudice against color exists among Friends in this country ..." The opposition to W. B.'s Abolitionism is growing. Only "those who are called to the work of the ministry could deliver public discourses" on Abolitionism, Temperance, etc. Friends have objected to opening Anti-Slavery meetings with prayer. Tells about the argument over the annexation of Texas. No Anti-Slavery meterial has been published in the Friend. At meetings, colored Friends sit apart by themselves, and white Friends are not supposed to sit with them. J. J. Gurney is opposed to the Abolitionists. Compares the status of Abolitionists in England and America. Prof. M. Stuart supports [illegible] Gurney's anti-Abolitionist stand. Was astonished at [illegible] hostile attitude of Eliz. Robson toward the A-S cause. Reports D. Wheeler's similarly hostile views.

.Lynn, (Mass.). Hopes that the British Abolitionists will work vigorously to end oppression in British India. Will try to persuade W. L. Garrison to give this reform more attention in the Liberator. The American Abolitionists are engaged in a struggle with the churches, who have "assumed the right to control the consciences" of their members. The Society of Friends is siding with the churches, for which conduct W. B. criticises it severely. Condemns the clerical argument that a Christian should suffer rather than labor at the present time, and that the Quakers should render "unconditional obedience to the decrees of the Society." Thinks that the energies of the Society are be[illegible]mployed in England. Tells of his personal conflict with the Society. Thomas and Elizabeth Robson have advised the Friends to have nothing to do with the Anti-Slavery cause. Reports an interview with them. Was visited by Joseph Mitford, a Quaker Abolitionist. Asks for literature showing the progress of the Anti-Slavery cause in England. Would like to have the recent lectures of G. Thompson.

.Lynn, (Mass.). Thinks that E. (P.) N.'s pamphlet may cause some agitation among the English Quakers over the attitude of the American Quakers toward Slavery. Explains his religious philosophy at length. Is opposed to sectarianism and favors religious liberalism. Suggests that E. (P.) N. discuss with Isaac Winslow a periodical W. B. has been editing. Reports on his controversy with the Society of Friends. The Indiana Quakers have been persuaded by A. Buffum to open their meeting houses to Anti-Slavery meetings. The Liberator is excluded from N.E. Quaker schools, because it contains remarks by Garrison and Quincy on the Society of Friends. The Quakers are strongly opposed to N[illegible]sistance. Some people will be prevented from going to t[illegible]rld's Anti-Slavery Convention

[Lynn, (Mass.)] Refers to pamphlets, etc. dealing with oppression in India. Is pleased "that you have secured the services of our valued friend Professor Adam ..." Thinks that the intolerance displayed at the World's Anti-Slavery Convention may have caused beneficial discussions of the woman question. W. Howitt may have "hit upon the true reason for the exclusion of our delegates ..." Has not heard from J. Mitford concerning the discussions in the Yearly Meeting about the Friends in America. Was much interested in the Irish Friend. Was surprised by the misrepresentations in T. Robson's letter. Reports on the latest developments in his controversy with the Soci[illegible]f Friends. Bath, William Pulteney, earl of, 1684-1764. Ch.G.5.22

To Colman, British envoy at Florence, Italy.

[London.] Has received the marble tables and bronze statues which he sent, and Methuen also has received the pictures. Has called on Riccardi's son, but found him too ill to take part in civilities. Wishes he might have been more successful in procuring for him a better position but thinks it unlikely that much can be done while he is still so young. Lord Scarbo thinks the position as Envoy to Turin might be secured but Saphorin declares that it is far too dangerous a station. Thinks it possible that Mrs. Colman might join him in Italy soon; her tought of the expense being the only factor that hinders her. Has shown t[illegible] Damask to Mrs.Pultney and will ask him to exchange it f[illegible]me from Genoa. Major-general Dormer is returned ffom L[illegible]on with a great story concerning Mr. Burnet. To "My dear Lord"

London
[Apsley House.] Delayed sending the sketch of the case for the opinion of the King's Advocate, because he wished a copy of the order in Council enclosed and likewise an answer from the Solicitor of the Customs respecting the lading of provisions on board neutral ships. Trusts that the government can prevent the loading of provisions for the enemy if there can be sufficient proof. In Ireland there is not sufficient authority to bring such misdemeanors to the notice of the law. Pleads with him to endeavor to restore authority to government in England before the country runs to anarchy. L.S. 3p. 9 x 7 1/4 in.

[Written from Bath ?] Does not intend that Goulding and Co. shall be asked to pay twice for poems already paid for, but referred in his letter to poems intended for publication with music. Cites Moore's dealings with Powers as being a like circumstance. Is unwilling to relinquish his rights if that means that his songs will be printed in magazines, the Blackwood alone being of a standard high enough to meet his requirements. Jan 25

To William Strahan, His Majesty's Printer, London.

[Aberdeen.] Has seen his paragraph regarding himself in the letter to Sir Arthur Forbes. Expresses his gratitude that he should take such an interest in him and be so willing to help him. Sends his regards to Mrs. Beattie, to "Our friends in Suffolk Street, No 27", and to Dr. Johnson. Can never forget Dr. Johnson's goodness to him. His own health is much the same: he finds reading and writing very hurtful. A.L.S. 2p. 9 x 7 1/4 in.

To Doctor Percival, Manchester. (Dr. Thomas Percival ?)

[Aberdeen.] Has received his letter and the printed Resolutions respecting the abolition of the slave trade. Has endeavored to rouse the people in all his lectures on this subject. Two years ago, he wrote a treatise on the subject and delayed printing it only to become more certain of the facts. Outlines the work and expresses his willingness to publish it. Will send it first to the Bishop of London for approval and will then have it forwarded to Percival. Fears that the publication of it in the next session of the Legislature might be thought presumptuous, and so hopes that it may be published during t[illegible]present session. Comments on the state of his own hea[illegible] Has never seen the paper signed "Vindex", as so f[illegible]nglish publications reach him. A.L.S. 3p. 9 x 7 1/2 in.

To the editor of the Christian Times.

[Written from ?] Writes in defence of the work, "The Conflict of the Ages" in answer to his criticism of it. Doubts his understanding of the two parties in conflict as shown by his interpretation of St.Paul. Nor does he rightly comprehend the author's true belief in the matter of transmigration, nor the statement that every man is "an incarnate Devil". Feels some doubt as to his meaning in his discussion of right and wrong as brought out in the author's work. The book has been highly praised by all other critics, and the writer of the letter is proud to bear the same family name as the author. A.L[illegible]p. 8 1/4 x 6 1/4 in.

To a clergyman, possibly to his brother, Henry Ward Beecher.

[Galesburg, Ill.] Will write the article on the subject of Congregational Councils, as he requested, and will endeavor not to appear as an advocate.
